

The Florida League of Cities

EMPLOYEE EXPERIENCE

“ We understand how important it is to focus on our culture, so we talk about it, celebrate it and work deliberately to live it every day. ”

Jeannie Garner, Executive Director/CEO
Service with the League since 1994

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS – WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED ...

“ Right from the start, I was blown away by the Florida League of Cities culture. One of the best things about working here is how much the League cares about its employees. Our benefits package is second to none. The League offers us flexible paid time off throughout the year and a defined benefits package, which is rarely seen in the job market today. We also just added paternity leave, which is amazing for all the new fathers in the company. It's been almost six years, and I am so grateful that I made the decision to work here! ”

Mike Morrill, Account Executive,
Insurance Member Services
Service with the League since 2017

“ I knew very little about FLC when I started working here right out of college, but I figured I would give it a couple years to get my foot in the door. Almost 30 years later, I can't imagine how different my life would be if I didn't work here with colleagues I consider family.

The League has continuously provided challenging opportunities where I have grown and learned, which I've found extremely rewarding. ”

Allison Payne, Manager,
Advocacy Programs and Federal Affairs
Service with the League since 1994

A FOUNDATION TO BE PROUD OF ...

... It is rock solid – financially and organizationally.

Created in 1922, the League is the united voice for Florida's cities. We believe in local voices making local choices. Everything we do is in the best interest of cities. We are honored to serve those who serve.

Our services extend far beyond the traditional association-type activities. While those remain the backbone of the League, our innovative programs and our four core values – Home Rule, Integrity, Public Service and Excellence – set us apart.

Home Rule means that cities can solve local problems with local solutions. Cities do not need to seek permission from another level of government, as long as the local law doesn't conflict with state or federal law. This right of local decision-making is part of Florida's Constitution and what makes each city, town and village in Florida able to maintain its unique character.

"IT'S A FAMILY ..."

Many people ask us how we manage to keep so many high-quality employees for 10, 20 and even 40 years. The answer is simple: It's our culture. At the League, we're like a family. It's one of a kind, and we work at it every single day.

We treat people, problems, wins, losses, illnesses and achievements the same way a family does. It applies to how we interact with our board, how we treat our members, how we celebrate and reward our employees and how we embrace and help each other during life's trials.

LOVE WHERE YOU WORK ...

“ Once I got a sense of all this organized chaos that IS the Florida League of Cities and saw how I could help out, I used to joke, ‘How lucky am I? There’s not another lawyer in Florida with a job as unique as mine.’ As I approach 20 years with the League, I’m proud to say I feel the exact same way. It’s been rewarding to have a part in the League’s history. The League has a solid mission. It’s had great leaders smart enough to know when to go off script and when to stay on. And it has the potential to adapt, grow and remain THE answer for Florida’s cities and an exceptional place to work. ”

Eric Hartwell, Chief Legal Officer/General Counsel Designate

Service with the League since 2001

In addition to providing internal staff training sessions throughout the year, the League covers the cost of membership in industry associations and allows me to attend conferences and other learning events to continue my professional development. I have benefitted greatly from this ongoing learning experience which, in turn, has helped me and my team create the most comprehensive municipal risk and safety program in the State of Florida. ”

Little did I know, my future was filled with various opportunities within my grasp as long as I was willing to work hard and seize the opportunity. Working at the League has been quite the journey – at times challenging and stressful but rewarding nonetheless. And through it all I have grown and flourished.
